

Open Forum – www.openforum.com.au

Initiated by Global Access Partners (GAP) in July 2007, Open Forum is an independent, interactive web 2.0 community focused on the issues which matter to Australian public policy debate.

Our community of bloggers and readers includes people of all ages, from all over Australia, of all political shades and stripes including: senior business executives, government policy makers, academics, thought leaders and community advocates, as well as interested private citizens.

Popular topics include standards, privacy, spatial data, social inclusion, economics, health policy, Gov 2.0 and innovation.

Unlike other websites with a similar format, Open Forum is staunchly non-partisan. We believe that this independence is fundamental to the success of any policy development forum.

Where else would you find The Hon. Lindsay Tanner (ALP), The Hon. Tony Abbott (Lib) and The Hon. Scott Ludlam (Greens) all blogging in the one place?

Open Forum operates thanks to the support of our major sponsors: GAP, Office of the Surveyor General NSW, Standards Australia, and Microsoft Australia. Sponsors also provide thought leadership through the Open Forum Advisory Board.

ONLINE CONSULTATION SERVICES

GAP brings over a decades experience in stakeholder engagement to inform our online consultation services.

Rather than selling a cookie-cutter product, we begin by listening to our partners to find out what they need. Then, taking into consideration a range of issues including the scope, objective, target audience, subject matter, existing infrastructure, security concerns, privacy issues, in-house resources, reporting requirements, desired branding, timeframe and budget, we propose the most appropriate online engagement solution and provide a fixed-price quote to deliver it. Our not-for-profit model means that our rates are a fraction of a commercial solution.

Services include:

- ▶ Hosting consultations on Open Forum
- ▶ Managing consultations on your website
- ▶ Scope, design, build and manage a consultation web portal adjoining your website
- ▶ Scope, design, build and manage independent consultation websites
- ▶ Social networking
- ▶ Editorial support
- ▶ Stakeholder engagement
- ▶ Qualitative and quantitative reporting

Open Forum collaborators in the field of online consultation services have included: Australian Government Information Management Office (AGIMO), Department of Broadband, Communications & the Digital Economy, Australian Social Innovation Exchange (ASIX), Australian Unity, Productivity Commission and Attorney-General's Department.
